The San Antonio Police Department has partnered with Child Protective Services and the Bexar County District Attorney's Office to adopt a new program aptly named A.C.T. or "Abused Child Team".

The mission of A.C.T. is to further address the health and safety of the children in our community and to prevent child abuse.

Child Protective Services Special Investigators will now be assigned to all six (6) police substations and work alongside police officers. They will work together to locate victims of abuse which have been proven difficult to find.
